Bank transfer admin fee £39 (inc. VAT)

This covers charges and work associated with moving large sums of money.

Client identity checks Free of Charge

As a law firm, we are required to perform ID Checks on our clients. Brevis works differently to many solicitors and here is no different - we don't charge our Home Buy & Sale Clients for performing ID Checks.

In some circumstances we charge extra:

When buying or selling a Leasehold property £150 (inc. VAT)

There is more work involved in buying or selling a Leasehold property. This is the additional cost for working on either.

Mortgage preparation fee £330 (inc. VAT)

There is more work involved when you're buying with a mortgage. We charge extra when this is the case.

While we act for you, your mortgage provider may also wish to appoint a separate solicitor to represent them. This will occur if we're not on your lender's 'panel' of solicitors. In this circumstance, to give you peace of mind, Brevis guarantees to cover ALL additional costs involved in there being a separate solicitor.

When buying a Shared Ownership £270 (inc. VAT)

This is where you only buy a share in the property (25% to 75%) and pay rent on the remaining share. Find our more at brevis.co.uk/shared-ownership

When buying with a Help to Buy ISA £54 (inc. VAT)

Go to brevis.co.uk/ISA to find out more.

When buying with Gov. Help to Buy Scheme £150 (inc. VAT)

Go to brevis.co.uk/helptobuy to find out more.

If the home buy or sale is complex £Variable

Our fees are based on the typical level of work we expect to perform in a home buy or sale. If a property transaction is more complicated due to unique circumstances, then our fees could be more as a result. We notify clients where we believe a case may be complex.

Brevis believes in offering our clients transparency in our service. Here you can find our pricing structure for buying and selling residential properties. You may find it easier to estimate how much our fees will be by completing our no-obligation form in minutes at Brevis.co.uk/calculate

Your questions answered

What are legal fees?

This is the money we charge our clients that we keep. We use or legal fees to pay our costs, such as staff wages, office space, our taxes etc. This is also where we aim to make our profit for our work, so that we can continue offering our services to clients for years to come.

What are 3rd party fees?

There are some payments which we need our clients to pay to Brevis so that we can directly pay these on to other companies or organisations.

When you transfer money to us for 3rd Party Fees, we hold this money in our Client Account (a bank account we use exclusively to hold client money) until we need to pay the 3rd Party.

What are disbursements?

In some circumstances, we pay 3rd Party Fees on your behalf from our Client Account. These fees are known in the industry as "disbursements". In essence, our client has the direct relationship with the 3rd party, and we facilitate payment on our client's behalf. We always obtain authority before arranging a payment of a disbursement on behalf of a client.

When is a 3rd party fee NOT a disbursement?

Sometimes Brevis will pay a 3rd Party Fee directly. Brevis will make the payment and collect the precise cost from the Client Account. Because the relationship is not directly with a client, these payments are not classed as disbursements.

What if I change my mind?

Buying or selling a home is a big decision. If you change your mind then we know that it must be for good reason. That's why Brevis does not charge its legal fees if you decide that you no longer want us to proceed. Although we will return any funds to you that are held in our client account, some 3rd Party Fees may have already been spent or promised, which may mean that we be unable to return these funds to you.

How accurate is the Brevis pricing guide?

We ensure that our prices are kept up to date, but sometimes costs can change unexpectedly. The guide is sufficient to give you a more than reasonable estimation of what our fees are likely to be, but there is no guarantee.

What are the timescales?

It is not uncommon for property transactions to take 10-12 weeks, but delays can occur. Brevis believes in transparency and our aim is to keep you informed of our progress and any delays along the way. We breakdown the stages of a home buy or sale into milestones so our clients can keep track. Please go to brevis.co.uk/milestones to find out more.
